

23rd Annual
Samuel DuBois Cook Society
Dinner and Award Ceremony
SAVE THE DATE: February 11, 2020

Request for Nominations

The Samuel DuBois Cook Society invites nominations of individuals from every sector of the Duke Community: staff, faculty, administrators, and students -- undergraduate, graduate or professional. Founded to be an instrument of social engagement and change, the Cook Society seeks to recognize members of the Duke Community who reflect in their work or in their academic pursuits, the objectives to which Dr. Cook dedicated his professional life -- social justice, mentoring, the University's relationship to the black community, and his vision of the "beloved community," seeking to improve relations among persons of all backgrounds. The 2020 awards will be presented at the Cook Society Dinner on February 11, 2020.
